MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Market Very Dull, Resulting in Fractional Changes, Except in Few Instances. NEW YORK, April 16.-Money on call was easy at 21223 per cent., the last loan being made at 212, closing offered at 212.

Prime mercantile paper, 41226 per cent. Sterling exchange dull but steady at $4.86% for sixty-day bills, and $4.88% for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 126,955 shares, including the following: Atchison, 24,-435; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 6,700; Louisville & Nashville, 3,715; Oregon Transcontinental, 13,605; Reading, 8,800; St. Paul, 11,675; Union Pacific, 4,400.

The stock market to-day was excessively dull, and the fluctuations in the general list were made within the narrowest limits, reflecting only the humor of the moment of the trading element, in whose hands all the business done was concentrated. The holidays are for the parts responsible for the growing dullness in the market, as to-day an off day for the Jewish element, and Friday will be a full holiday here and in London, while the latter exchange will also close on Monday and Saturday. Under these circumstances, no one feels like entering into any extended ventures in stocks. The traders of a bearish turn of mind fed out small lines of stocks in the early dealings, but the market afterward took on a firm tone, and while London had a few buying orders there was no disposition to trade upon that fact, and outside | ing at 85%; May, 85% 86 13-16c, closing of a few shares which were subject to special in fluences and made wide fluctuations, there was no feature of any kind to the market in any part of the day. There were some exaggerated rumors in regard to the trouble between the Union and Northern Pacific over the Orgeon business, and it was said that the Union Pacific h ad notified the Navigation company that it would abandon the lease if a small line of one hundred and fifty miles were not turned over. The "bears," upon this, hammered the stock, and it yielded about four points, though, upon the denial of the rumor, a portion of the loss was recovered. Short-line was afterward attacked, and lost a point or more. On the other hand, Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western, both common and preferred, rose sharply, on the report of a large increase in the earnings, and that the next dividend upon the preferred would be at an increased rate. Philadelphia Gas also showed marked strength, and rose about 6 per

First prices were generally lower, the declines from last evening's prices extending to 38 per cent., and, under the pressure of the traders, further slight losses, extending to 12 of 1 per cent., were sustained. A marked recovery, accompanied by more animation, was soon brought about, however, and the market then became intensely dull, and a firm tone still prevailed, while the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western stocks made rapid advances. In the afternoon the Oregon stocks became weak, and the general list sympathized somewhat, but there was no other movement until the last hour, when Philadelphia Gas came to the front. The market closed very dull and steady, at insignificant and irregular changes for the day. The advances were: Philadelphia Gas, 6; Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western common, 212, and the preferred 158. The losses include: Navigation, 2, and Shortline, 112.

Railroad bonds were very dull, the sales of all issues aggregating only $1,048,000, although there were dealings in an unusually large number of issues. The changes were upon the same limited scale, though the market was firm, and most issues are small fractions higher. North-Western debenture fives rose 21s, to 1123s.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

State bonds were dull and featureless. Clos-

TRADING AT CHICAGO. The Ups and Downs of the Market, with the CHICAGO, April 16 .- A good business was transacted in wheat early in the day, and after that the market ruled more quiet. The feeling developed was weak and the advance of yesterday was almost entirely lost. The opening for July was 14@190 lower, and with only slight fluctuations declined 7se more, recovered 5sc, again eased off, and closed about 7so lower than yesterday. The change in the market from the strength denoted yesterday was surprising to many, and was attributed to weak and lower Liverpool advices. A liberal increase on ocean passage is noted, and general rains in the Northwest, where rain has been needed. A moderate degree of activity was manifested in corn early in the session, after which the pit became more quiet. The feeling on the whole was better, and slightly higher prices were established, though the volume of business was only moderate and fluctuations confined to 3sc. The firmer tone was attributed some to the strength in provisions. The demand was confined largely to "shorts," there being considerable selling of July and buying of May. Oats were traded in fairly, and prices covered a range of 3sc. A steadier feeling developed, and prices did not get above yesterday's outside figures. The close was steady at 16 20 4c above yesterday. Quite an active business was transacted in mess pork, and the market exhibited considerable strength. The market opened firm, and, with free buying, prices were advanced $27\frac{1}{2}$ \$30c. Later the demand slackened, and prices receded $12\frac{1}{2}$ \$15c. Toward the close the feeling was steadier, and prices rallied $17\frac{1}{2}$ \$20c, and closed comparatively steady. Only a fair trade was reported in lard, and the feeling was stronger. Prices were advanced 5\$7\frac{1}{2}\$c per 100 pounds, and the market closed steady. An active trade was reported in short-rib sides, and the feeling was reported in short-rib sides reported in short-rib sides reported in short-rib sides receded and representation. In prices there is no change to notice, but as usual on a quiet market, there is a weak tone. Wooling reported in short-rib sides receded and representation representation. MINNEAPOLIS, April 16.—Among the sam-ple tables there was less activity than for the past few days and the weakness of speculative markets was reflected in the trade in cash wheat. The statistical position has some effect in removing fears of buyers regarding a probable famine and with scarcely any demand from local millers there was not enough inquiry from outside buyers to retain the recent advance in side buyers to retain the recent advance in prices. Sales of grade wheat were made at a lower range, and holders of frosted samples found it more difficult than ever to get bids. There is apparently no demand for this class of wheat. Receipts were 201 cars and 41 were shipped. INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. Brighter Weather Making a Better Demand for Certain Goods-Prices Firm.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 16. In all departments of trade there was a good deal of activity to-day, and strong prices prevailed as a rule. Dry goods men and dealers in millinery goods were quite busy. Boot a shoe men report trade rather quiet. Leather-dealers are having a good trade, with prices ruling easy. Grocers are also having a good trade, the upward tendency in prices of staple articles stimulating it. Sugars and coffees carry the firm and advancing tendency of several days past, and in all staple groceries a fair distribution is in progress. In the produce markets there is a good deal doing. Receipts of poultry are moderate, and prices are more steady. Receipts of eggs are light as compared with last month, and prices are figure in their tone. of eggs are light as compared with last month, and prices are firmer in their tone. Receipts of butter (strictly fresh) are light, and our best quotation is readily realized. Old stock is still in full supply, while good butter is promptly disposed of. Irish potatoes are flat. Sweet potatoes are firm, but the quality runs irregular, and only the best stock meets with ready sale. Apples, onlong and cabbage are plenty and weak in ples, onions and cabbage are plenty and weak in prices. Florada oranges are firmer. Early vegetables are coming forward in scattered lots, and values are unsettled though firm. It would be useless to undertake to quote the market, so fickle is it, changing some days every few hours. A few days from now the receipts will be larger, and lower and steadier prices may be looked for. Canned goods and dried fruits continue dull, and further concessions must be made to effect large

Sally Joy White, in Wide Awake. The first thing that is to be done is to divide the beef into the hind and fore-quarters. The hind-quarter contains the finest and most expensive cuts of meat. Here are found the sirloin, the tenderloin, the rump and the round. The cheapest por-tions of the hind-quarters are the shin and

In the fore-quarter are the ribs, the shoulthe shin, the rattle round and brisket. The ribs are the top of the back nearest to the loin-join it, in fact, when the animal

The first five ribs are what are called the "prime" ribs; these are used for roats or steaks. The next are the five chuck ribs ying between the prime ribs and the neck; the meat is of a finer quality than on the "prime" ribs, although they are used for the same purposes.

The neck is used for beef teas, for stews and for boiling. Below the rib cuts running along the side of the animal, is the rattle round; this is used for corning. The under part of the animal's body is called the brisket, and this is also used for corning.

The shoulder is used for steaks and corning, though the less said about the tenderness of shoulder steak the better. The ship both in the front and the back is shin, both in the front and the back, is used for soup and soup stock.

In the hind-quarter come the first roasts and steaks, as well as the juciest meats for making beef tea, meat pies, beef a la mode or potted beef. Sirloin, of course, gives the very choicest roasts and steaks; next comes the rump; this is cut in three parts.

The back, the middle and the face are good roasting pieces, but the middle cut is the most economical, as it is free from bone and has not a scrap of waste on it. Good steaks are cut from the top of the round; some people go so far as to say that the flavor of a round steak is superior to that of any other. The lower portion of the round is used for braising and for beef

The tenderloin has the most tender meat, but it is neither so juicy nor so well flavored as other portions that are not so tender, and it is not nearly so nutritious as portions that require much cooking. The sirloin comes next in tenderness and delicacy. These cost more than any other cuts, but there is less nutritive value than is found in the cheaper parts. Indeed, the cost of the meat seems to be in an inverse ratio to its real food value.

Refurnishing.

Detroit Tribune. With spring cleaning the furnishing of the several rooms is considered. It is always best for those of moderate means to look into this matter carefully. The main look into this matter carefully. The main point is color. If it is a new home there is much less liability of making inharmonious purchases, but if it is adding single pieces, such as a lounge or chair, the covering may prove a complete disappointment if it does not accord with the other furniture, the paper or curtains. The best rule is to consult one's own taste, if reasonably correct, and not be led or hampered by any fashion of the hour; but by no means imitate the rooms of a neighbor. Rooms should possess individuality. How Rooms should possess individuality. How can they if they are a copy of some other person's rooms?

Make your furniture comfortable and artistic, and above all not too fine for daily use. The location of certain rooms should be considered in furnishing. Blue. gray, drab and fawn are the proper colors for sunny chambers, while pink, buff and red belong to rooms with a northern exposure, or such as are badly lighted. It must be remembered that the brightest rooms can be made gloomy by surrounding, while the most unpromisingly dull ones can be made cheerful by using right color. All colors possess character, some suggesting warmth and cheer, while others breathe of repose and coolness. If there is a mantel in the room, furnish with a sage green valance fifteen inches deep, and finish it with the same colored crewel tassels with a little yellow mixed in. Put a large bow of yellow on the end. Line the valance with yellow canton flannel or silesia, and cover the mantel-board with the sage green. If the chairs require slipcovers, procure some soft-finished cretonne of some pretty design and color which will harmonize with the hangings will harmonize with the hangings. Use cream scrim for bed shams, making an open work on the four sides, through which draw yellow ribbon, fastening it at the corners with bows of the same. Trim both spread and pillow shams around with cream-colored lace of an open pattern, and line with silesia to match in tint the rib-

This makes an inexpensive and stylish furnishing. The little et ceteras of the toilet—the mats, cushion, hairpin case and receiver-should be of the same colors.

The Coming Farmer. G. G. Gordon, at Wisconsin Farmers' Institute.

The coming farmer is on the way. He is the new-school farmer, the one who is cutting loose from the ancestral ways and stepping far in advance of his fellows; he is adopting and bringing forth new ideas, putting into practice methods which will eventually double and treble the productive powers of the soil. The coming farmer will be a man of thought as well as of brawn. Specimens of him may be oc-casionally seen in the retired merchant who takes up farming as a happy means of putting in his closing years. That force of thought which gave him success in mercantile life he now applies to tilling the soil and to the various departments of agriculture, and thereby proves that thought is as profitable in farming as in any other business. One of the leading characteristics of the coming farmer is that he will be a specialist. He will devote his efforts, his thoughts, his whole energies to one line of agriculture as much as the merchant who twenty years ago kept a general-purpose store now devoted his whole energy to a special store. The most successful farmers of the present time are those who are pursuing special lines, whether in the production of dairy products, of draft horses, road horses, special breeds of sheep, cattle or hogs. The coming farmer will send forever to the block the scrub sire in all classes of stock, which is now a greater curse to Wisconsin than all the monopolies which prey upon the people. The coming farmer will provide his wife all those modern appliances for doing her work, which will make her life one of comfort and happiness, and lighten her labors as much as the most modern appliances lighten the labors of the farmer. The coming farmer will make the whole country smile under the tillage of wisely-directed effort guided by the intelligent thought of a well-cultiby the intelligent thought of a well-culti-vated mind, a thoroughly trained brain.

Those who succeed in raising large crops of small fruits take pains to have the soil rich, to cultivate thoroughly, and to keep the plants promptly trimmed up, as well as allowing the plants plenty of room.

It is the early and continued cultivation that largely benefits the cabbage crop.
